Home screen widget to boost your productivity

The new widget by Taskos to do list utilizes mobile capabilities and takes productivity to the next level

New York, September 1st, 2010– The popular android task manager "Taskos to do list", just began its quest to revolutionize the way people are managing their tasks. Taskos to do list is a mobile application that provides a simple and intuitive user experience for task management and productivity tracking.

The latest version of Taskos, which was just recently released to the android market, includes some very interesting and unique features that aim to simplify the way people are managing their daily tasks.

In addition to popular features available on most of the task list applications in the market, Taskos differs from other applications by having some pretty unique features that aim to simplify and optimize the way people are managing their tasks:

1. Speech to Text – Taskos has a built in speech to text feature that allows you to avoid the hassle of typing your task. Ideal for listing "on the go" random thoughts.
2. Easy Calling – Taskos allows you to call your contacts from the task list itself! Just write 'call', pick a contact and press 'Add'. The 'Call button' will pop up and by clicking it you can execute your task.
3. Auto Complete – Calling a friend? Meeting a business contact? Taskos helps you insert your tasks faster with its auto complete function for popular words and contacts.
4. Simple UI – Taskos excels in providing a very sharp and simple user experience.
5. Enhanced productivity methodologies – Taskos follows David Alan's Get Things Done guidelines with predefined categories (e.g. errands, calls, projects, etc.)
6. Widely supported- Taskos supports Android Ver. 1.5 and above.

In addition to all those features, Taskos just released an announcement about its brand new version with a very cool Widget. Unlike all other task list applications widgets the Taskos widget allows you to easily add tasks using speech to text and browse all tasks right from your home screen.

"We want our users to have more time for fun. Our goal is to help our users get things done easily so they can have more time to do what they love doing", says Mr. Jason Fanning, the CEO of Taskos. "Since the release, we have already witnessed dozens of thousands of downloads and a very high retention rate to the application".

"We received amazing feedback from our users", adds Fanning, "Many of them said that Taskos is the best to-do-list manager they witnessed and one user even said it saved his life. Just recently, another satisfied user of Taskos even asked to marry Taskos as it's more obedient than her husband!" laughs Fanning.

In conclusion, Taskos is a highly popular to-do list application in the Android market, with enhanced speech-to-text capabilities, fairly unique features and a fantastic User Experience. All of the above make Taskos one of the top 3 to do lists in the android market.
